FDR, CHURCHILL COMPLETE BASE PLAN FOR WAR

Call In Pan-American Envoys Today to Reveal Strategy For Defeat of Axis.

REDS KEPT INFORMED

Question of Supply Seen as Vital Amid Prospect of Long-Haul Fight.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill scheduled meetings today with representatives of all nations at war with Axis powers. They will report to the envoys on the joint British-American strategic plans thus far formulated.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Basic Anglo-American war plans have been completed by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill and today Pan-American and other interested envoys will be told at a White House conference how the Allies intend to defeat the Axis

Mr. Roosevelt will receive the representatives of the 20 Pan-American republics Premier W. L MacKenzie King of the Dominion of Canada was received by Mr. Roosevelt yesterday.

Likewise, the prime interest and influence of Soviet Russia in any anti-Axis program was recognized when Ambassador Maxim Litvinov was received by Mr. Roosevelt yesterday to be filled in on his talks with Churchill and other British leaders.

In addition to the Pan-American envoys, Mr. Roosevelt will have a separate conference tomorrow with the envoys of western Pacific powers, including China, The Netherlands, Australia and New Zealand.

From understrappers in the Anglo-American war council discussions comes word that the outlook is good, or even better than that, on a long-haul basis. The production picture is "cheerful," to use the word of one participating in technical discussions of the war problem.

The lend-lease plan is being made over into a two-way, high speed boulevard for fast armament traffic. The new idea is to have a common supply pool into which British and American resources would be dumped to be drawn upon as circumstances require.

We are short on some equipment and weapons of which the British have, at least, enough to lend us some They are going to

Mansfielder Picks Army Over 60-Day Term In Workhouse

John Coulter, 21-year-old Mansfielder, had his choice yesterday of going into the army or spending 60 more days in the Columbus workhouse. He chose the army.

Sentenced to the workhouse Nov. 26 on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Coulter was told the remainder of his 90-day sentence would be suspended if he joined the army immediately. He promptly accepted the offer and Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer, who sentenced him, ordered his release.

Judge Cramer said today that Coulter was scheduled for induction soon anyway and the youth waived the 10-day notification period so he can leave with a group of inductees from Crawford county.

Coulter was sentenced last month with another youth and the parents of a 12-year-old Butler girl after they pleaded guilty to charges involving the girl.

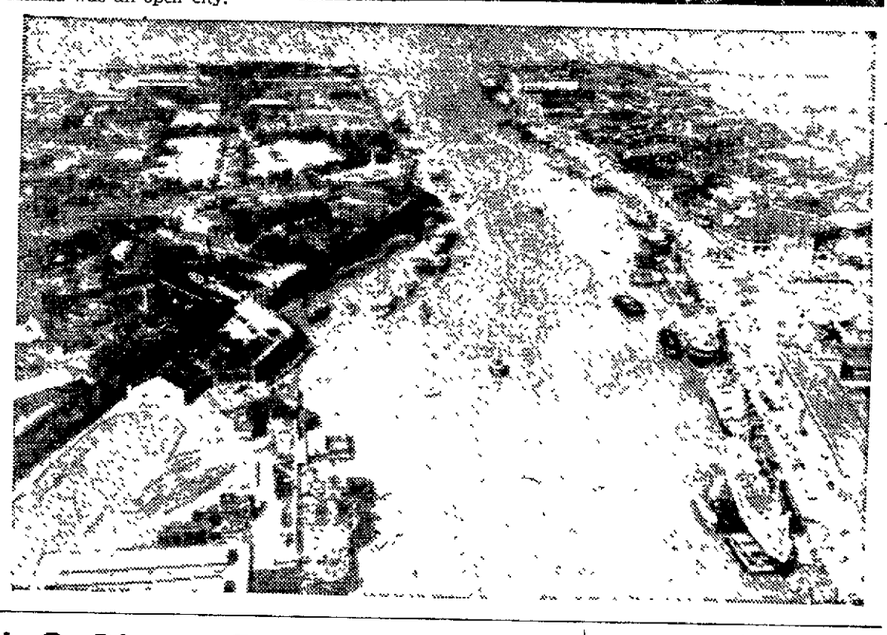
Much Ado About Isles--Churchill Talks--Manila Bombed

In the far-flung World War II, there are many focal points, of which three are presented here. In map at top left are the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, French territory off the coast of Newfoundland, seized by the Free French. Their return to the Vichy government, with U. S. observers stationed there to control radio activity, is expected (See Page 2). At top right, Britain's war prime minister, Winston Churchill is shown as he delivered his dramatic message in Washington yesterday. At bottom, a view of the waterfront at Manila, now a defenseless city, left burning by ruthless Japanese aviators in a series of raids staged yesterday despite the proclamation that Manila was an open city.



STUDY COUNCIL CLERK'S POST

Republican Seem Certain to Replace Beer; Daugherty and Black Rumored For Post.

It appeared almost certain today that Clerk William J. Beer, city council clerk for the past 13 years, will be replaced by a Republican when the new councilmen take office Jan. 1.

The appointment of a probable successor to Beer was still "up in the air" today, however, as the G. O. P-controlled council and the county Republican executive committee attempted to agree on a man for the job.

Although it was believed possible for a time that Beer, a Democrat, might be retained as clerk, developments today indicated that the Republicans plan to remove him to make a place for a member of their own party.

The new council will have seven Republicans and two Democrats, and to keep his job Beer needs the support of at least three of the Republicans.

Ralph Hardy, county executive committe chairman said the committee had endorsed no one and planned no action until a majority of the councilmen indicate their preference for one of the half dozen applicants mentioned for the post

It was learned today that L. Max Daugherty, 101 Helen avenue is being considered for the clerk's job. Also mentioned was Robert Black, son of Dr. R. R Black.

Sacramento Blacks Out For Unidentified Planes.

SACRAMENTO, Cal. — (INS) — The first blackout on the Pacific coast in two weeks doused all lights in Sacramento for an hour and 17 minutes early today, after the fourth interceptor command reported "unidentified planes overhead."

The blackout came at 1:43 a. m. and ended at 3 a. m., after the planes apparently were accounted for satisfactorily.

Trained now for such emergencies, the state capital went into complete darkness with the order, and officials declared that the blackout was "highly satisfactory."

Mather field, big army air base near the city, also was blacked out.

U. S. Planes Patrol Coast Despite Lull In Jap Attacks

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO—U. S. army and navy planes went aloft again today seeking possible lurking Japanese submarines in the waters along the Pacific coast in spite of a lull in the attacks upon American shipping.

Naval headquarters reported merely "no activity" after finding no signs of the undersea raiders.

The cessation of attacks after six days of harassment in coastal shipping lanes was unexplained.

Whether the submarines had been frightened away by the heavily increased army and navy patrols and the destruction of at least one of the raiders or merely were returning to their bases for replenishment of fuel and supplies was not known.

In the latter case, it was said it was not improbable they were being relieved by another group of submarines and that attacks upon shipping off the coast might be resumed shortly. Military authorities were not overlooking the possibility, either, that the submarines might still be in nearby waters, "lying low" and waiting for another good opportunity to strike.

Still another possibility was that the inactivity stems from the fact that Jap subs have been robbed of their chosen quarry—tankers.

The navy confirmed announcement by the California Oil Producers association that coastwise tankers have been ordered into port pending completion of arrangements for their protection.

Navy Confirms Gallant Group Still Defends Island.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Guam and Wake islands may have fallen before Japanese onslaughts, but the Marine garrison at Midway apparently still is holding out —at least, it was on Christmas day

The navy refused to go into any detail, but it confirmed that it was in communication with the gallant band of defenders at Midway on Thursday. Presumably, a marine garrison is there but there was no hint of its size.

The three islands — Midway, Wake and Guam—in pre-war days constituted a series of stepping stones for aircraft flying between Hawaii and the Philippines. Midway is about 1,150 miles west of Hawaii; Wake, about 1,000 miles further west. Guam is about 1,500 miles east of Manila.

WAR FUND GOES UP TO $15,800

$1,000 More Received by Red Cross In Campaign to Reach $30,000 Quota.

Richland county chapter of the Red Cross had poured $15,800 into the war emergency fund today as additional contributions totalling close to $1,000 were received at the war emergency fund headquarters.

Contributions received since yesterday were mostly in the form of checks for $5 and $10, W. J. Spreng, chairman of the fund-raising and public information committee, said today, as he continued to urge Richland county residents to send their contributions to the Red Cross executive offices at 11½ West Fourth street.

Beginning Monday the committee will make a determined effort to raise the balance of the $30,000 quota fixed by national headquarters as part of a $50,000,000 goal that will be used to relieve suffering in the American war zones.

County war emergency fund workers will be called together,

Urges Newspaper Reading to Get Clear War News

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. O W. Griswold, commander of the Fourth army, asked the American public today to "beware of rumors, loose talk and unconfirmed reports," and to "read your newspapers for official reports of what is happening on war fronts."

The newspapers, General Griswold said, are performing "a most patriotic duty in the war effort" by submitting voluntarily to a type of censorship which "bans rumors and withholds information that might be useful to the enemy."

Proper army and navy officials will give the newspapers "official army and navy reports on what is happening to our armed forces on all war fronts."

Bailey to Direct Rationing of Tires Which Starts In Mansfield Jan. 5.

NEW REGULATIONS

Order From OPA Denies Tires For Pleasure Drivers as Rubber Supply Dwindles.

While the nation's 32,000,000 motor car owners faced an almost complete tire famine, Mansfield today took steps to carry out federal regulations by establishing a tire rationing board.

The action was taken here as the Office of Price administration cracked down all the way in a new rationing program, denying the vitally needed rubber not only to the Sunday pleasure driver, but to taxicabs, traveling salesmen, and many commercial truckers

The cut-off of crude rubber from the Far Eastern plantations may easily take millions of automobiles—with worn tires—from city street and rural highway.

Mansfield's civilian defense organization moved promptly to carry out, in this community, the regulations set up by Price Administrator Leon Henderson Cognizant of the needs of the armed forces, Henderson issued regulations for local tire rationing boards which start operation Jan. 5.

Mayor W. J. Locke and the civilian defense committee appointed a five-member board, headed by James Bailey, retired business man, of 296 West Fourth street, as chairman Other members are Fred B Wolff, manager of the Brunswick hotel, Louis A. Ott, jeweler, John W. Cook, vice president, H L Reed company, and Harold D Burns, attorney. A temporary office for the board was set up at the Y M C. A.

Thirty-five tire dealers today attended a meeting called by the mayor for preliminary discussion of the tire rationing Bailey was introduced by the mayor, and both stressed the need for full co-operation from dealers. Harry Buchan, manager of Buchan Auto Supply, was elected by the group to head a committee which will assist the tire rationing board

The regulations announced by Henderson ban the issuance of purchasing certificates for new tires or tubes except to those coming within seven distinct classifications

And the motorist who is now riding on fabric can't speed to his nearest dealer to stock up,

Destruction, Death Rained On Open City

Civilians Machinegunned as Flames Ravage Churches, Schools; List Of Dead and Wounded Swells To Tragic Proportions.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The war department reported today fleets of Japanese troopships were pouring invasion reinforcements ashore north and southeast of Manila and "very heavy" fighting was in progress southeast of the Philippine capital.

(By United Press)

MANILA—Fire swept through the ancient walled city in the heart of defenseless Manila today as Japanese planes rained bombs in a thickly populated district crowded with religious, educational, medical and government buildings and, it was asserted, machine gunned civilians as they fled.

Casualties and damage of tragic proportions were feared. For three hours and 22 minutes, from 11:54 a. m. to 3:16 p. m., the planes roared in waves over the historic, walled city, wreaking fury on a helpless capital containing 623,500 people.

Eye-witnesses asserted that the Japanese airmen machine-gunned civilians who fled from the ruins of the ancient Intendencia building, which housed the treasury, the mint and the budget commission, as its walls crumbled about them.

The planes dumped their bomb salvoes in the walled city, which has 100,000 residents, among homes and ancient historic edifices, including churches, schools and government buildings, while other formations circled over the bay and picked targets among ships and buildings in the port area, then roared inshore

Nippon's grim answer to the proclamation that Manila was an open city, issued more than 24 hours before, came as United States and Philippine forces, facing heavy odds, fought furiously intensified Japanese invasion drives on the capital from north and south.

The known dead so far are 37, and nearly 150 have been wounded.

A bomb struck the treasury building, which houses the mint.

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies—The largest ship in a Japanese concentration was sunk by direct hits from Dutch army bombers off Kuching, capital of Sarawak on the island of Borneo, and a lighter also was sunk, a Dutch communique announced today

(By United Press)

CAIRO — British imperials pursuing retreating Axis forces to prevent their escape into Tripolitania have caught up with the main body of the enemy about 100 miles south of Benghazi, British general headquarters for the Middle East said today.

The Axis positions were being shelled, it said.

The British were continuing to bring prisoners in from the field and a communique said a large enemy munitions dump had been captured.

"In New York the Columbia Broadcasting System heard the British radio broadcast that as part of the effort to contain the retreating enemy forces, one British column had advanced 100 miles into Tripolitania.

"Despite very bad going as result of rain which slowed down the speed of our advance during the last two or three days our forces now are harassing the enemy main forces in the Jedabiya area, 90 miles south of Benghazi," the headquarters communique said.

The communique said south of Benghazi mopping up operations were proceeding. Many small bodies of the enemy were cleared up between Benghazi and Ghemines and Soluch, the communique said.

Chemists Reveal Russian-Type Flower Could Be Grown Easily In Ohio.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS — America's war machine may be rolling along two years from now on rubber tires made from Ohio-grown dandelions.

The National Farm Chemurgic council announced today that it had discovered a rubber-bearing dandelion, known as kok-sagyz, which will produce synthetic rubber at approximately one-third less than the present cost of making synthetics.

"The plant, found so far only in Russia, may turn out to be a gigantic industry for the midwest," Dr. Paul J. Kolachov, director of research and development for Joseph E. Seagram and Sons, incorporated, Louisville, Ky., said. "It is readily acclimated and could be grown easily in the climate of the midwestern states."

Dr. Kolachov said that the plant requires a highly fertile soil and heavy rainfall. In Russia where the Soviet government has more than 175,000 acres of kok-sgyz under cultivation, rainfall averages approximately 20 inches a year, he added.

"In Ohio, of course, we would not be bothered by the rainfall problem because the average annually is well over 30 inches," Dr. Kolchov said.

The Chemurgic council said there have been no exports of the kok-sagyz under cultivation, rainno seed are available yet outside Russia.

Dr. Kolachov said the kok-sagyz plant would be "much more practicable" as a basic ingredient for synthetic rubber than guayule, milkweed or any of the other plants on which experiments have been made.

Guayule is adapted only to one particular kind of climate and in addition the supply of guayule seed is controlled by one company —the Intercontinental Rubber company," he said. "The cost of processing milkweed into synthetic rubber is too exhorbitant."

He said also that rubber made from guayule and milkweed do not have the wiry, yet elastic, quality that kok-sagyz rubber has.

CHARGED WITH 'SANTA' DEATH

Worker Faces Manslaughter Count; Holiday Traffic Toll Reaches 41.

A 27-year-old Massillon steel worker faced a manslaughter charge today in the hit-skip death of a street Santa Claus on Christmas eve.

Police Chief Stanley W. Switter of Massillon said he filed the charge against Harold J. Collier after Collier admitted "striking something" with his car. The machine was damaged, Switter said.

The street Santa, 69-year-old Philip A. Ricker, was killed as he crossed a thoroughfare, ringing bells and passing out candy to children.

The holiday traffic death toll in the state reached 41 in Ohio as three fatalities were reported last night. Two of them were pedestrians. Mrs. Margaret Asman, 78, of Marysville, was killed by an auto near her home, and Matthew Augustine, 64, died in a Youngstown hospital shortly after a car struck him at a downtown intersection.

The third victim was John Marzick, 38, of Cleveland, killed in a truck-auto collision.

Two other persons died of injuries suffered in earlier accidents. They were Alfred Weaver, 73, of Kent, injured Dec. 19, and Edward R. Smith, 72, of Cincinnati, injured last Sunday.

PEARL HARBOR NAVAL UNITS IN FULL TRIM FOR FIGHTING

(By International News Service)

HONOLULU — United States naval units at Pearl Harbor were in full fighting trim today and men of the navy were itching for a crack at the Japs.

Virtually all the sailors in the fleet want to be machine gunners—so they can knock off some Jap airmen and repay the score for the Dec. 7 sneak attack on Honolulu.

A dramatic view of the fighting spirit of the naval units based at Hawaii was afforded correspondents today when they were permitted to visit the Pearl Harbor navy yard for the first time since hostilities began.

Discussing the Dec. 7 attack that opened the war, the admiral commanding the combatant unit of the Pacific fleet declared: "The reaction of our men during the attack was to get up and sock 'em, and that's the feeling now.

"They all want to be machine gunners now, to get a shot at the Japanese fliers.

"The best example of morale I saw was shown by several boatloads of men who had been picked up from the water. They landed on a dock. They were covered with oil and had no clothes.

"But when an officer asked if they wanted to augment the depleted crews of destroyers going out, these men rushed aboard for more action.

"Combatant personnel is now up to full strength. The losses of Dec. 7 have been replaced, and we are ready and anxious to go whenever the commander-in-chief gives the word."

The admiral gave his interview aboard his flagship. It and its companion vessels are in full fighting trim.

If your dog seemed to be unusually droopy this week, and didn't respond to the kind of treatment he's been getting, or even to the remnants of the Christmas platter, he's probably moping because he didn't get a Christmas card. Postmaster H. E. Homberger is still holding his sides as the result of the latest Christmas fad to hit Mansfield . . . Sending your dog a Christmas card with the dog's name on it and your own address. "It's the first year, to my knowledge, that it's ever been done in Mansfield," Homberger said. "One carrier, Frank Frisch, delivered 10 cards to dogs on his route."

Now that Christmas is passed and the annual round of Christmas sporting equipment has been received as gifts, Mansfield police are seeking cast-off gym equipment to be used in their new recreation room on the third floor of the municipal building. The room has been set aside to store lockers and to provide patrolmen with a place to relax between shifts. Especially needed are boxing gloves, exercise bars or any piece of athletic equipment no longer used.

Boys who received Christmas air rifles were warned today by city and county authorities to choose their targets more carefully or go before Judge Stuart H. Cramer in county juvenile court. Authorities said they have received a number of complaints in the past two days about boys shooting at squirrels in the city parks and even breaking a window or two with their new guns. Officers pointed out that a state law prohibits the use of air guns in the city and that no one is permitted to shoot at song birds or the park squirrels at any time.

INSISTS ON REMOVAL OF FREE FRENCH

Washington Sees Martinique Pact In Jeopardy After St. Pierre Occupation.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Responsible diplomatic quarters in Washington today disclosed that the Vichy government of France is prepared to permit the United States to established an observation post at St. Pierre, providing Free French control of that North Atlantic island and the neighboring isle of Miquelon is withdrawn.

Purpose of the American observation post would be to watch the messages sent out by the wireless station at St. Pierre, the normal function of which is to broadcast weather reports for fishermen.

French Ambassador Gaston Henry-Haye is believed to have expressed to Secretary of State Hull the willingness of his government to grant this concession.

However, Vichy France is insisting on the restoration of the status quo in those islands, which were occupied by Free French naval forces in a surprise move on Wednesday morning.

There is even thought in some quarters of the possibility of Marshal Henri Petain ordering the French cruiser now stationed at Martinique to proceed to St. Pierre and Miquelon and oust the Free French there by force.

Under the terms of the naval accord between the United States and Admiral Georges Robert, French high commissioner of Martinique, the latter promised that the French cruiser would not leave the harbor. However, the accord was based on American assurances that no attempt would be made to take over the French possessions in the western hemisphere.

Furthermore, the assurances given the United States by Marshal Petain that France would remain neutral in the war also were based on the proviso that France and its possessions are not attacked.

The French are understood to feel that the Free French move against St. Pierre and Miquelon, in effect, releases Petain from his promise insofar as those islands are concerned.

Buddies Approve Soldier Trapping --Except Skunks

FORT CUSTER, Mich.—(INS)— Pvt. Joe Kazlauskas' 60 barracks buddies don't mind him "playing the skin game" just so long as he doesn't bring back the wrong pelt.

Kazlauskas, armed with a state license and permission of post officials, has set out a trap line on the reservation. In the first two weeks he counted $75 profits, in addition to his regular $21 a month army pay.

Looking forward to a good season as the 15,000-acre post hasn't been trapped much, Joe said:

"There are signs of fox, coon, muskrats, mink and skunk. But I'd better not bring in any skunk . . . my barracks mates say I'll have to draw the line there."

NEW FACTORY PAYS BONUS OF $650,000 AND FREE TURKEYS

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND—To the 800 employes of Jack and Heintz, Inc., a newly-established war factory here, Santa Claus is not just that jolly, old fellow who arrives but once a year.

To them, he's a daily visitor who manages to work overtime a little on Christmas.

Sound nice? Then listen:

For Christmas, workers in the year-old plant, holding $20,000,000 in government orders, received $650,000 in bonuses ranging from $100 to $600 depending on seniority; each employe also received an 18-jewel wrist watch, a 15 to 19-pound turkey and the firm distributed 54-pound baskets of food to 1,600 needy families in the community through its employes.

But that was only Christmas. During the year, they got bonuses averaging $30 a month, free coffee in the factory daily and free hamburger sandwiches every Wednesday.

But that was 1941. Starting Jan 2, there'll be a new cafeteria in the plant, and employes will get this free meal every day: soup, two vegetables, ice cream and coffee.

And as in the past, workers will continue to hear entertaining music over plant loudspeakers for four hours daily.

There isn't a time clock in the place, and the firm's president, William S. Jack, 53-year-old former AFL machinist' union business agent, says "Nobody is ever late."

The firm, which makes aircraft starter assemblies and automatic pilots, will have a new plant and 600 more workers producing after Jan. 15 but there's no use applying for a job.

WICKARD SILENT ON CALL FOR HALF BILLION CUT IN FUNDS

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Secretary of Agriculture Wickard today was silent on the Byrd economy committee's proposed cut of $400,622,000 in agricultural appropriations, but reports from other officials in the agriculture department indicated they fear such cuts would drastically hurt economic recovery of half the country's farm population.

Officials of the farm security administration, which is slated for abolishment under the economy group's plan, said they could not understand the committee's attitude since they were actually aiding the defense food program in providing credit for expanded food production in the low income group.

Surplus marketing administration officials said that "the very nature of our program is to help people who need help most, and they need this help more than ever now."

The committee, made up of members of both houses of congress, treasury and budget representatives, for some months had been studying methods of trimming non-defense spending. In its plan, it proposed to abolish FSA at $70,500,000 cash savings, and cancel $120,000,000 in loan authority; abolish the farm tenant program, which is under FSA, at $7,122,000 cash saving, and cancel $50,000,000 in loans; and cut $100,000,000 from the SMA appropriation.

In its recommendations for a saving of $1,500,000,000 in non-military expenses, the committee also proposed reduction of the WPA program to $50,000,000 a month and elimination of the CCC and NYA at a saving of $338,000,000. The proposals face opposition in some congressional quarters.

MANILA AFLAME UNDER RUTHLESS JAP BOMBINGS

Civilians Machine-Gunned In Open City; Casualty List Feared Very High.

the debris of silver coin, which was strewn over a large area. Other government officials escaped injury by taking refuge in a vault.

The defense forces in the north were retreating stubbornly to a new and stronger defense line in the Pampagna plains, onto which the Japanese had swept from the defiles of the Lingayen hills.

In the south the Japanese had opened a savage drive from the Atimonan area.

In both north and south, a Philippines command disclosed, thousands upon thousands of Japanese reinforcements were swarming onto Luzon island from transports.

Late today flames were still eating through the walled city and its ruined streets.

As they ended their raid and left their dead and maimed and ruined homes and buildings, the Japanese aviators dropped leaflets which said they were not warring on Filipinos, only on Americans.

There had been a 44 minute alarm period ending at 9:12 a. m.

At 11:54 a. m., the sirens shrieked the second alarm, for the longest raid of the war and one in which, instead of seeking military objectives including the port area, the Japanese bombed the city proper.

A great salvo of bombs crashed in the walled city and buildings shook as if in an earthquake.

At 2:22 p. m. a second salvo struck in the same area, hitting the treasury and mint building.

The Santa Catalina college building was left a mass of debris, and at least one student was killed and one nun wounded.

Firemen raced to the walled city area as horrified, dazed townspeople started running through the crowded streets, carrying such armfuls of their most valuable belongings as they had been able to grab.

Fires swept westward.

They threatened the $1,000,000 Manila cathedral.

Santa Rosa college was set afire and the flames quickly got out of control.

A United Press correspondent found a large part of the Santo Domingo church, a historic landmark dating from Spanish times, reduced to ruins by bombs which had scattered debris over adjoining streets. Flames roared through the ruins.

The first communique from army headquarters in the field, after the defense forces had left Manila yesterday and the anti-aircraft guns had been removed, said:

"Fighting is desultory in the north but heavy in the southeast. The enemy is steadily bringing reinforcements from his fleet of transports at Lingayen (northwest of Manila) and Atimonan (southeast).

"Enemy air activity is heavy."

This tactic story of the intensified drive from the south was overshadowed by that which came in a communique issued by Maj. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, commander in chief in northern Luzon.

It disclosed that American and Philippine troops, despite earlier optimistic reports of counter-attacks, were withdrawing.

These troops had passed a point 96 miles north of Manila and were sweeping over the broad Pampagna plains of Pangasinan province.

"The enemy is now making slow progress on the north Luzon front as the withdrawal of our troops is proceeding according to plan," the communique said. "The resistance of our troops continues undiminished."

The Japanese were driving southward along the coastal plane from Lingayen, 108 miles north of Manila, and on the main highway from Damortis, up the coast, through Rosario and Urdaneta, in Pangasinan province 96 miles from the capital.

"At this, latter point," Gen. Wainwright's communique said, "they have debouched from defiles and have now entered the broad Pampagna plains."

It was 1:46 p. m, after the citizens of the capital had waited for an endless hour and 52 minutes period, for the Japanese to loose their fury, when the first bombs crashed on defenseless Manila.

In the port area, 1½ miles away from the walled part of the city, the Japanese were bombing ships.

A freighter slowly sank in the water, turning half around.

The Japanese planes were 10,000 feet up.

Wave after wave of planes, nine at a time, flew over. One formation dropped its bombs and threw up water near a second freighter.

The bombers circled out over the bay and came roaring in, in battle formation, to drop bombs on the port area.

Three fires burned throughout an uneasy night in this now defenseless city, accompanied by occasional faint explosions from the burning Pandacan district on the Pasig river at the southeastern edge of the city.

There was a fire which had been burning for 36 hours at Cavite Naval base and another at the northern end of the city where a ship, struck during yesterday's raids, was burning still.

Seventy-five homes had been destroyed and great oil reservoirs had been consumed.

CITY SETS UP RATIONS BOARD

Bailey to Direct Program For Restricted Sale of Automobile Tires.

for all supplies of new shoes and inner tubes are frozen until the rationing date.

The car owners who can get new tires are those whose vehicles are essential to services for health, safety and industrial and commercial operations of a limited nature.

These are:

1—Physicians, surgeons, visiting nurses, veterinarians.

2—Ambulances.

3—Fire fighting equipment, police vehicles, garbage removal trucks and mail delivery cars.

4—Public service vehicles with a capacity of 10 or more passengers on regular transportation routes, school busses or cars to carry workers to and from industrial plants.

5—Truck for ice and fuel delivery, road maintenance, public utilities facilities, essential repair services, waste and scrap dealers, common carriers and transportation for raw materials, semi-finished or finished goods which are not moving directly to the household for ultimate consumers' use.

6—Farm tractors or other implements, except trucks or pleasure cars.

7—Industrial, mining and construction equipment, except trucks or other automobiles.

As to the prohibition against sale for use on cars delivering to consumers, it was explained that there were factors to relieve any situation involving delivery of milk, bakery products and department store goods.

The pooling of delivery facilities was one suggested solution, especially where there is duplication on routes such as in milk and laundry services. Some of the bigger firms were said to have large stocks of tires on hand to carry them along for some time.

FATE UNKNOWN

U. S. Hears No Word of 1,000 Nationals In Hongkong.

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The fate of an estimated 1,000 American citizens who were on the island fortress of Hongkong when it fell into Japanese hands is still undetermined today.

American Consul General Addison Southard in a letter to the state department dated Christmas day revealed that William Kailey of Brooklyn has been missing for several days and is believed to be dead. Another American, Miss Florence Webb of Orange, N. J., was killed Dec. 14 by shell splinters.

In his message sent before the fall of the British crown colony, Southard reported that there had been no other deaths or injury to American citizens on the island. He estimated that in addition to the Americans at Hongkong that there are 200 Philippine citizens there.

Promise Hongkong To Be British-Chinese

CHUNGKING —(INS)— Chinese newspapers promised today that when Hongkong is recovered from its Japanese conquerors, it will remain "British and Chinese" as it was before the Nipponese occupation.

The press called attention to the fact that the battle of Hongkong was the first instance of British and Chinese co-operation against a common foe. It said this will prove significant in future battles in Malaya and the Philippines, "where the vast Chinese population is dedicated to aid of Britain and America."

Reports from the Chinese front said Chinese troops had slowed down the Jap offensive in Hunan province. A vanguard of 4,000 Japs south of the Usinchaiang river was reported to have been repulsed with enemy losses at nightfall after an all-day encounter.

Pownall Takes Over Far East Command

LONDON —(INS)— Short, vigorous Lieut. Gen. Sir Henry Royds Pownall, 53, today assumed his new post of commander-in-chief of the British Imperial forces in the Far East.

Hailed as a "man of action," General Pownall succeeds Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham at a time when a test of his mettle is imminent. While only sporadic patrol and aerial activity was reported from the northern Malayan front, a critical battle is generally acknowledged to be brewing with both the Japanese and Imperial forces strongly reinforced.

The charge was dismissed in municipal court upon the officials' promise to correct the condition as soon as possible.

WAR FUND GOES UP TO $15,800

$1,000 More Received by Red Cross In Campaign to Reach $30,000 Quota.

Spreng said, to discuss ways of obtaining the balance as quickly as possible and also to receive information concerning Red Cross activities in the war zones that will aid them in acquainting subscribers with the need of such a fund.

The fund will be benefited by the day's receipts from two local business establishments Monday when the Parkway restaurant, 18 Park avenue west, and the Ritz night club, 161 North Main street, both turn over full receipts to the organization.

Round-the-clock receipts from the Parkway restaurant beginning Monday at 5 a. m. and ending Tuesday at the same hour will be handled by a volunteer Red Cross workers' corps stationed at the cash register. The Ritz night club turns over its receipts from 5:30 a. m. Monday to Tuesday at 2:30 a. m., when the establishment closes.

Assurance that the county quota would not only be met but exceeded was expressed in a letter received by Spreng today from Nat C. Wilson, assistant manager of the Red Cross eastern area. Wilson, in asking for Richland county reports twice a week, stated that "this is an opportunity for all Americans to participate, through their contribution, towards relieving those in need as the result of warfare."

Church To Receive 3 Gifts Sunday

Presentation of three gifts to the church will highlight the 10:30 a. m. services tomorrow in the First Church of the Brethren.

A large pulpit Bible, presented by the O. B. F. class; a new lectern, the gift of John W. Kline; and new frontal cloths for pulpit and lectern, the gifts of Mrs. George Linn, will be received tomorrow on behalf of the church by Edwin Jacoby, member of the board of trustees.

Rev. R. L. Showalter, pastor, will use for his topic "Our Temples Still Undone."

Young people of the church will be guests of the young people of the Richland Church of the Brethren at a New Year eve social and candlelight service Wednesday.

There will be no mid-week service or meeting this week.

'God and One Man,' Topic of Sermon

Rev. Albert L. Linder, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will speak on the topic "God and One Man" tomorrow at the 10:30 a. m. services in that church.

Special music in tomorrow's morning worship service is to include the anthem "On Life's Highway" by Brown, sung by the Senior choir; and "He Pardoned Me" by Rambler, sung by a quartet composed of Paul Seifert, James Keith, George Lake and Willis Wygant.

Sole activity during the coming week is Senior choir rehearsal at 7:30 p. m. Friday. There will be no Junior choir rehearsal.

Lesson-Sermon Topic Announced

"Christian Science," is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in the Church of Christ, Scientist, Sunday.

The golden text is: "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give" (Matthew 10:8).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him. If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; . . . And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:31,32).

Communion Service At St. Paul's

With "What The Savior Brought" as his sermon subject, Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran church, will conduct the winter Holy Communion service at the 10:30 a. m. worship service there.

A ladies' trio will furnish special music during this service when "Blow, Winds, Softly Blow," by Mueller, is sung.

Election of club officers will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday when the Missionary society meets at the home of Mrs. Martin W. Wappner at the Ohio State Reformatory residence quarters.

'Grandly Begin,' Subject of Sermon

Rev. D. N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will speak on the topic "Grandly Begin" at the 10:45 a. m. worship services tomorrow. The anthem "Holy Night, Peaceful Night" by Hawley, will be sung by the Senior choir at this service.

Organ selections, played by Mabel Zehner will include "Christmas Evening" by Mauro-Cottons, "Variations On An Ancient Polish Christmas Carol" by Guilmant, "Noel" by Mulet, "The Holy Boy" by Ireland, and "In Thee Is Gladness" by Bach.

Superintendent to Be Guest Speaker

Rev. H. W. Peterson, superintendent of the Mansfield district of Methodist churches, will be the guest speaker at the morning worship service in Central Methodist church, speaking on the subject, "All Power."

During this service a ladies' trio will sing "Prayer Perfect" by Stenson.

Church Plans For 2-Fold Observance

A two-fold observance of Student Recognition Day and observance of the second quarterly communion service will be held tomorrow in the First Methodist church at the 10:30 a. m. service which will include baptism and reception of new members. Epworth league will meet at 6:30 p. m.

After a social get-together at 8:30 p. m. Wednsday in the church's recreational room, the young people of the church will attend a special Commitment service at 11:30 p. m. conducted by the Epworth league, Wesley Fellowship group, and the Youth department.

Special Sermon, Musical Numbers

Accepting the challenge of a war-time Christmas, Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, has chosen as his sermon subject for tomorrow's 10:30 a. m. services "Stars You Cannot Blackout."

In keeping with the sermon topis, the choir will sing "Behold, I Bring You Good Tidings" as the offertory anthem.

Other special music will include Christmas music played on a tentatively installed electric organ.

Preaches Sermon On 'Homeward Bound'

The annual Christmas Communion will be observed tomorrow at the 10:30 a. m. services in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, with Rev. Paul H. Saleste preaching on the topic "Homeward Bound."

Meetings scheduled for the coming week are: the December business meeting of the official board, 7:30 p. m. Monday at the manse; St. John's Ladies guild, 2 p. m. Wednesday for election of officers for 1942; Senior choir rehearsal, 7:30 p. m. Friday.

'World's Savior,' Minister's Topic

"The World's Savior" will be the sermon topic of Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, at the morning worship service there tomorrow.

Under the direction of Mrs. H. H. Clingan, the choir will sing "Awake, Awake, Put On Thy Strength, O Zion" from the cantata "The Story of Christmas" by Matthews, with Mrs. E. P. Cook in the solo part.

Christian Youth Fellowship meets at 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

Pastor to Discuss 'Enduring Values'

"Enduring Values" will be Rev. Peter Young's sermon subject at the morning worship services in the First Congregational church.

Special music during the service will include "Sleep, Holy Babe" by Kreckel, Schubert's "Ave Maria," and "Allegro Pomposo," played by Mrs. Fred Lewis, organist.

Pilgrim fellowship will meet at 7 p. m.

Special Sermon, Musical Program

"The Manger Child In the Temple" will be Rev. H. S. Garnes' sermon topic tomorrow at morning worship services in St. Luke's Lutheran church.

Mary Eileen Schuler will sing the solo "Cantique de Noel" by Adam, and the choir, under the direction of Florence MacDonald, will sing "Now Praise We All Our God" by John H. Brewer.

A sacred dramatic Christmas cantata entitled "The Promise That Came True" written by Dorothy L. Sumerau and Ruth Dale, will be presented at 7:30 p. m. by the Luther league.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1941.

Drive carefully tomorrow—this year's quota of accidents has already been passed.

It seems that some people who "give till it hurts" are extraordinarily sensitive to pain.

For such a wise old fellow it seems that Santa Claus should have a better idea about sizes and preferred colors—so there wouldn't have to be so many exchanges.

Churchill's Words of Confidence

WITHOUT attempting to conceal the fact that both the United States and Great Britain realize that much battling is still ahead, and that this will bring suffering and hardships to the people of both countries, Winston Churchill inspires confidence that final victory is assured—and that a great and unified force is now moving toward achievement of success in all the far flung zones of war.

Speaking before a joint session of congress yesterday Britain's prime minister clearly, and with characteristic vigor, stated war aims of the Allies, predicted definite betterment of position next year and fixed 1943 as the time when the Allied nations will be in readiness "to assume the initiative on an ample scale."

With a British father and an American mother, Churchill serves as an ideal link between these two great nations at a time when the future of both is under serious threat and when ability to understand the language, philosophy and ideals of each is a distinct advantage.

Recognition of the great part being played by Russia was also a part of the Churchill address, as well as the present help and potential strength of China and other opponents of the Axis powers.

Unification of the military forces of all Allies, with co-ordinated plans for mass production and distribution of war materials and supplies, may be the primary purpose of Churchill's trip to America, but the heartening effect of such a confidence-inspiring talk as he gave yesterday should not be overlooked in appraising the value of his visit.

Plenty of Food, If Not Hoarded

A FOUR-DAY supply of food essentials is all that any family needs to keep in stock, says Paul V. McNutt, director of defense health and welfare services. Pantry supplies should include such staples as cheese, evaporated milk, dried beans or peas, peanut butter, canned vegetables, canned and dried fruits, canned meat or fish, cereal.

There is plenty of food in the country to supply the nation generously. The war may upset routine distribution occasionally, causing local and temporary shortages of certain foods. Such dislocation can be kept to a minimum, however, and may even be wholly prevented, if people keep their wits about them and refuse to plunge into panicky hoarding.

A four-day reserve of essentials means just that. If certain items are used, replace them. Order the next sugar or flour a few days before the supply on hand runs out. Above all, in planning for your own family's welfare, be fair with your neighbor's family. There will be enough for everybody, as far ahead as can be seen today, if everybody buys only what he needs.

To Conserve On License Plates

WITH the steel shortage getting serious, they're cracking down now on automobile license plates. It might not have occurred to many that there was enough steel in them to matter much; but some states use 1,200 tons of more a year for such purposes. Stopping this leak alone would provide metal for a small fleet of warships.

Some states have started using only one plate for a car instead of two, thus saving half the metal. Some have the plates already stamped for 1942 but will save on the next lot. Others may make the old plates serve, getting a small metal tax receipt to fasten on the old tag, which can then serve until it is worn out.

'Goosebone' Prophets Not Banned

ALTHOUGH the government is soft-pedaling weather reports, there is no official ban on goosebone weather prophets. In fact, these should be field days for them, with no official refutations of their forecasts. Time and weather alone can prove them wrong, and usually the public quickly forgets what sort of weather they promised.

Then, too, there are the people who always "feel in their bones" what the weather is going to be. This is no joking matter for them, and unsympathetic bystanders may begin to take their comments more seriously than in the past. Unfortunately for any who want to know the weather two weeks hence, these physically painful signs of weather change do not precede the change by enough hours to help much.

Many Varieties of Hoboes

A SALVATION ARMY official, Adjt. Giles Barrett of Stamford, Conn., has an unusual hobby. He classifies hoboes and has 24 different grades on his list. Hoboes themselves probably would not accept his groupings so long as he includes tramps and "jungle buzzards." According to hoboes such people are far lower in the social scale, because they prey on their fellow humans instead of doing a bit of honest work occasionally. Unfortunately for this theory, the dictionary lists both migratory workers and professional tramps as hoboes.

Adjutant Barrett contributes something else to this general subject. He has a theory about the origin of the word hobo, although the dictionary says "origin unknown." Barrett says it is a contraction of the words "hoeing boy," meaning an itinerant willing to work for his keep. The explanation is at least plausible and picturesque.

Thank Adolf for one thing—that he changed his name to "Hitler," as "Schicklgruber at Berchtesgaden" would add much to present confusion.

News item says: "A mushroom has been evolved with a garlic scent and flavor"—but since when has there been a garlic shortage?

Among other problems laid aside "for the duration" is that of finding ways to use "the new leisure."

Even if the supply of fingernail coloring doesn't meet the demand there'll still be plenty.

At least "for the duration," the American majority has become unanimous.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—There's nothing deader in this world than William Ortmann, the hero of this saga of the fire escapes.

He died of a bullet hole in his chest, and of another one in his abdomen, in a New York hospital, though he never saw the man who shot him, and the man who shot him didn't know his name.

Willy Ortmann was a 51-year-old jackstraw of the musical trade who came to New York by way of Chicago. He was an agent, a composer, a publisher's representative, a song plugger. Sometimes he wrote operettas. Sometimes he wrote tunes to fit the lines of Eddy Guest's verses. But mostly, he was looking for a hit, a sure enough hit, something really big that would bring credit to himself and to his publishers, the Braun company, of downtown New York. He wanted a tune and a set of lyrice that he could twist into a musical horseshoe and hang around America's heart.

LAST year, in Sweden, a little tune made its appearance under the commonplace title of "My Soldier." A scout sent it to the U. S. Willy Ortmann got hold of it and played it a few times. After a while, a fragment of the melody began to run around in his brain. So he revised it and asked Carroll Loveday to write a set of lyrics. Then they published it, and Willy Ortmann began to wonder if, after all these years, he was going to have that hit at last.

He was getting warm, all right—though he never confirmed it. For that was the night William Ortmann died.

On Broadway, about 2:30 in the afternoon, some detectives picked up a rat they'd been looking for a long time. In his pockets they found a key to room No. 945 of the Abbey Hotel. So they took the man there, and sat down to wait. Some time aftermidnight two men opened the door and walked in. They must have sensed something was wrong, for they came in shooting, their guns kicking up sharp stabs of sound in the dark. Then they fled into the corridors and one of them leaped through a window to a fire escape.

ACROSS the way, at the Hotel Victoria, Willy Ortmann was just going to bed. When he heard the shooting, he ran into his wife's room. But she was all right. She was sleeping quietly. She was Ilse Marvenga of the Berlin Comic opera.

Ortmann turned back to his own room, paused for a moment, and then stepped out on his own fire escape for a goodnight sniff of the Broadway ozone.

It was his last sniff, for just at that moment the hoodlum across the way broke out onto the fire escape of the Abbey. Perhaps he thought Ortmann was a copper. In any case, he dealt him two slugs.

They got Willy Ortmann to Roosevelt Hospital, and they operated, and for a little while he seemed to rally. Then his luck began to run out, and at 1:05 the next day, just 21 hours after he was shot, he was dead.

And that's about all there is to the story—except this: the song that Willy Ortmann hoped would be a hit has become just that. Today, they've sold more than 50,000 copies of the sheet music. It has been recorded by Eddy Duchin, Vaughn Monroe, Kate Smith, the Andrews Sisters, Sammy Kaye, Al Donahue, Bob Hannon. You hear it on the airways and in the dance halls, and on the street corners where cops and stenographers and lawyer's clerks whistle it. Its name is "The Shrine of St. Cecilia."

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, Dec. 27, 1921.

Campaign for contributions to start high school band netted $733.75.

Birth report: Son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyd, Ford street; son to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Beck, West Fifth street.

Employes of the E. L. Marks store were entertained at dinner at the Southern hotel.

Cold night resulted in 22 transients applying for lodging at police station.

Several hundred young people enjoyed skating on North Park lake.

Louis M. Hurxthal, Mansfield young man, was awarded scholarship at Harvard.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, Dec. 27, 1936.

Donald Roger Moore, 20, died after an illness of several months.

Mary Shiplet and Charles Anglin were married in the First Presbyterian church.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Funston, 647 Scholl road.

Robert Tobias went to Columbus to attend a Hi-Y convention.

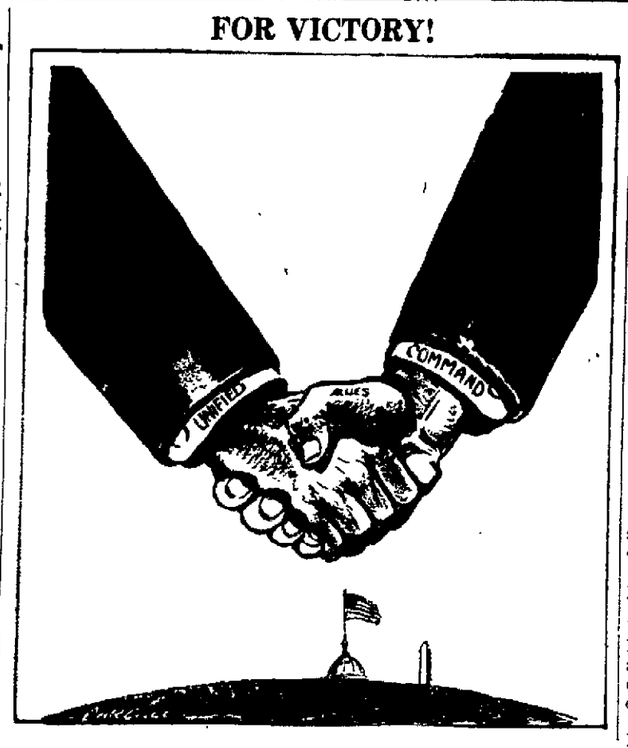
Automobile owned by Michael Hallabrin was struck and damaged while it was parked on East Fourth street.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Augustine.

TODAY IN HISTORY

John C. Calhoun, vice president of the U. S. in the administration of President Andrew Jackson, resigned that position on Dec. 27, 1832. Thereafter, Calhoun was elected to the U. S. Senate where he voiced the political philsophy of "states rights" on behalf of the conservative slave-holding interests of the south.

FOR VICTORY!



Young Foresees Japan's Defeat

—By JAMES R. YOUNG

(Editor's Note: Aerial bombardment of Japan's home territory, reinforcements of the Philippines and cutting of Japan's long lines of communications in the Pacific were suggested by James R. Young, for 13 years chief of the Tokyo bureau of International News Service, as the mortal blow the democracies should deliver to the Jap aggressors.)

(Written Expressly for International News Service)

IF THE threatening offensive by overwhelming Japanese forces in the Philippines is to be checked, it must be done from toda, on by American and Dutch air power. Japan has not shown secret or exceptional military skill in her Philippines stabs, but she is using an estimated 100,000 men, aided by countless barges, aircraft carriers and all types of navy vessels, against a numerically inferior group of valiant American and Filipino defenders.

YOUNG

In the few details received of American air action in the Far East, our men have displayed a superiority in handling their equipment, and in outmaneuvering the enemy, although the Japs had a vastly greater number of planes in the air.

But in sustained, long range attacks, the Japanese will lose in shipping and in the air if we can throw at them all that we possess. We can cut her reinforcements, annihilate the invaders, keep the enemy fleet scattered throughout the Pacific, and push Japan into a defensive position.

As all who know the orient will agree, we must bomb Formosa incessantly. The Dutch are the masters of the air lanes and lands of Asia. Give them the planes and they can help do a magnificent job. Thailand must be bombed day and night. The 200 American pilots on the Burma road must carry their attacks to Japanese occupied Hankow and Nanking. Russia must commence the bombing of Tokyo, Osaka and Western Japan. Without hesitancy, we must sweep the Pacific, from the Jap subs on our west coast to Japanese minelayers in their home waters, Alaska, on the alert, must carry our bombing cards to Japan.

THE JAPANESE can maintain an offensive, as did the Nazis in Russia, only while over-extended transportation lines remain unattacked. Once these are intercepted and their reinforcements unable to replace destroyed units, the Japs will find themselves drowning in the Pacific just as they have, after five years in China, bogged in the mire of their own making.

An American seven-day production assembly line in airplanes, guns, ships and tanks, is superior to anything ever seen in Japan.

Sixty-seven cities and towns in nearly two score states, where are located automotive factories, are producting engines, tanks, trucks, machine guns, aircraft cannon, high speed torpedo boat and submarine engines in such productive units as is unknown in Japan.

Tokyo's Axis leaders have underestimated America's strength in material production and manpower. We must demonstrate to them, by more than blow-for-blow reaction, our superiority in the air, by replenishing that action, in the Philippines. And carry it northward.

WHILE immediate major fleet action seems unlikely, I am confident, from what I have seen of the United States navy in the Pacific, we can handle any Japanese force, over any distance.

Against us, the Japanese do not have the plant capacity, the organization, or the materials, to maintain a long conflict. Her ambitions outdistance her productive capacity.

American naval and air power production is increasing. It must increase for Manila. Neither Manila nor Singapore should be lost. Swift counter-activity must prevent the Japs from attaining any successes anywhere in the Philippines.

Japan can be made a menace to herself. She had already failed in China, whereupon she rallied everything for a final—and fatal—blow, to her own supremacy in the western Pacific.

Listen World!

Blundering Decency

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

SCADS of criticism of America going the rounds these days, even among her most loyal backers. Everybody asking:

"Why weren't we better prepared?

"Why didn't we get wise to those rats long ago 'n' outsmart 'em? How'd they manage to sneak up on us?

"What's wrong with our secret service system?

"Hasn't anyone in Washington got sense enough to know when the dice are loaded and the deck is marked? No organization . . . no system!

"All these 'social reforms' . . . these 'lease-lend handouts.' While our own guns rusted in their racks, our own people headed straight for hell. What's the big idea? What's wrong with our whole lineup? Who's asleep at the switch?

"All this defense talk — but why weren't we trained for blackouts? Why haven't we gas masks...shelters?

"GERMANY AND JAPAN CAN GET GOING....WHY CAN'T WE?"

Questions like that everywhere. The fellow asks them may be only three jumps removed from the Village Idiot, under normal conditions. His own life may be about as "organized as a dish of scrambled eggs."

But right now he's holding the spotlight and getting rounds of applause. Which is natural. For look how comfy and superior his croakings make the rest of us feel! What swell alibis, they provide for our own laziness, stupidity and general laxity. How wise and efficient we appear against the shabby record of these Other Slobs.

Yes, there's plenty of criticism spattering around lately. Much of that criticism is healthy and vitally needed. And we should be grateful to those informed persons who had the courage to give it while there was time. If we'd listened to some of the honest critics who tried to warn us, during the last four years, we'd be in a far better spot than we occupy today. And our faces wouldn't be half as red...or our hearts half as heavy.

Yet, granting all this, our present outburst of bile is beginning to rile me plenty. Admitted, we've made a goshawful flop of many things. But that doesn't prove we're a bunch of dopes or rogues. Messy going? Sure!

BUT MESSINESS IS PART OF THE PRICE WHICH ANY PEOPLE INEVITABLY PAY FOR THE GLORIOUS OPPORTUNITY AND HIGH CHALLENGE OF DEMOCRACY.

Democracies are always slow, clumsy, stubborn, wasteful and inefficient in their methods. That isn't because they are cuckoo experiments...it's simply because men, under democracy, have a dream which is still larger than their individual or collective evolution.

That's why one determined Bully can always get things done quicker and slicker than a million undecided Free Souls. Which explains many of our own blunders — including Honolulu. But look out for that time when the Free Souls get hep to themselves. They may be slow in starting... but oh-you-finish!

That much for the Sourpusses who think that Tokyo is smoother than Washington. It is. At present. But stick around and see what happens. They may have a Sun Goddesss. But we have the Star of Bethlehem.

So much for Indictment No. 1. As for the charge that we're not smart enough to smell out rats and outgnaw their rattiness, here's one American who is proud that we aren't and didn't. It may cost us plenty. Everything that is decent costs. Nobility, like democracy, takes a lot of time cooking. But it's worth the price!

It's true, we might have more money, more guns, more trained soldiers today if we'd spent time and effort on hate and suspicion and greed instead of on our dream of joy and freedom and brotherly love. But if that's dumb, I'm proud of being a sap!

AND I'M BETTING RIGHT NOW THAT, WHEN THE SMOKE HAS CLEARED, YOU WILL FIND THE MUDDLED DREAMERS HOLDING THE FIELD....AND THE REGIMENTED RATS TAKING THE COUNT.

Allies Will Unify Military Action, Reports Mix Good News With Bad

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHRISTMAS DAY brought news of the fall of Hongkong and an "open city" declaration from Manila, in an effort to save that city and its civilian population from further assaults by Japanese bombers.

News of continued Russian successes and of further British gains in Libya served to counterbalance the serious tone of reports from the Far East.

It took the Allies of the World war four years to cast aside their mutual suspicions long enough to set up a supreme war council with more than advisory powers. Marshal Foch's appointment as generalissimo became possible only when the allies were in imminent peril of defeat.

Soon after the Axis thrust World War II upon the U. S., the British press began clamoring for a full alliance and a supreme war council among the anti-Axis powers.

Last week-end the White House hinted that moves were being made to unify the military action of the enemies of the Axis. The president held talks with envoys from Britain, Russia, China and the Netherlands.

Then came the sensational news Monday night that Winston Churchill had just arrived at the White House.

Accompanying him was a staff of 80, and also Britain's three highest strategists, the Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound, Field Marshal Sir John Dill and Air Chief Marshal Sir Charles Portal.

After WC and FDR held preliminary talks the conference was widened to include spokesmen of all nations fighting the Axis, including British dominions.

Churchill indicated at a joint press conference with FDR that a supreme allied general staff was not likely, but that leaders of anti-Axis countries would agree on broad outlines of war policies and that staffs of the various countries could work out details. A "United States-Great Britain War Council" emerged soon after talks began.

At Home

Labor Enlists.

Congress was rushing a no-strikes-in-wartime bill, a labor-management conference seemed deadlocked, and 35 shipbuilding welders in California walked off the job as the week began.

But Tuesday afternoon, the labor conference laid on FDR's desk an agreement to forego strikes and lockouts "for the duration." FDR congratulated the conferees and accepted "without reservation your covenants."

The question of how to handle closed shop disputes was not a part of the pact.

In a major interpretation of the Wagner Act the Supreme Court ruled that an employer may speak his mind freely on labor issues provided his utterances are not part of a plan to coerce his workers in violation of the act.

Rubber Shortage.

Rubber has been the commodity of greatest value that the U. S. has imported during all of the past five years. Virtually all of the crude rubber is grown in the Far Eastern areas of Malaya, Ceylon, Burma, India, North Borneo and Netherlands East Indies.

All these sources have been gravely threatened by Japanese aggression.

Happily, the U. S. is not entirely without supplies and sources of rubber.

After the fall of France the government's Rubber Reserve Corporation began building stockpiles. At least a year's supply (600,000 tons) is now in the country.

Rubber plantations are being established in the Amazon jungles, but growing trees take time.

Masses Cancelled.

All pastors and religious houses in the Boston Archdiocese were notified by William Cardinal O'Connell that permission to have midnight masses Christmas Eve had been cancelled. The move was made to eliminate the possibility of congestion of hundreds of persons after dark in the event of a defense emergency.

Another AEF?

Before the Kaiser's men began high-tailing it for home in 1918, the U. S. had raised an army of 4,000,000 men. Of those, 2,000,000 had reached Europe. And of the doughboys on European soil, 1,390,000 were conspicuously active in the chase toward Berlin.

With World War II only three weeks old congressmen are already talking about another AEF. Talk has been inspired by congressional action permitting the drafting of men from 20 through 44 years old. The move opened the way for a 4,000,000-man army. Men already in uniform number 1,800,000.

Abroad

Uneasy Lisbon.

Little Portugal (35,000 sq. mi.) has held onto an empire (1,000,000 sq. mi.) created by a glorious 15th-16th century era of exploration and trade. Today she ranks as the world's third colonial power. Sheltered from war's blitzes on the leeward side of the Iberian peninsula, her capital, Lisbon, has been the wartime gateway to all Europe.

This week, war touched Portugal. London reported the Japanese had taken her island, Macoa, off China. Lisbon denied the report. The island, Timor, off Australia and shared with the Dutch, was occupied by Dutch and Australian forces for "protection" against Japs. Lisbon vigorously protested. An Italian newspaper said if Portugal didn't watch out the German army would come down from the Pyrenees.

Chilly Winter Ahead.

Added to news of military fiascos were developments that sent chills through many Germans.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels and Hitler begged the ill-clad German people to give up their few warm clothes to the army. Goebbels said: "As long as a single object of winter clothing remains in the fatherland, it must go to the front."

A few days later Hitler disclosed that he had dropped his commander in chief of the army, Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, and was himself taking over von Brauchitsch's responsibilities.

Some observers thought the replacement meant an army-party feud in Germany was becoming acute. Others believed Hitler was preparing to start some new desperate offensive elsewhere in Europe and that von Brauchitsch refused to take responsibility for it.

Petain's Promise.

A tired old Frenchman, Marshal Petain, met a burly, table-pounding Nazi, Hermann Goering, one month ago.

It is reported that the Frenchman, under pressure, finally agreed to let Germans have all the bases they wanted in French Africa provided they could get them without using the remnants of the French fleet.

In the weeks that followed, British sources say, Petain resorted to all sorts of excuses to avoid making good on the promise. He suspected that French African opinion would not stand for it and he wanted to see how the battle of Libya, running against Germany, came out.

But as Nazi reverses in Russia and Libya became more critical Germany became more insistent.

On Tuesday Germany began moving troops toward southern occupied France.

Furtive Raiders.

In Japan's known submarine fleet of 70 (most of them copies of German U-boats) are about 40 whoppers. They apparently were built for the specific purpose of preying off America's coast. They can do it because they have a traveling range of from 14,000 to 16,000 miles without refueling.

By midweek at least four tankers and two passenger ships were attacked off California by subs, with half the number of victims sunk.

Meanwhile the navy announced it had damaged at least 14 Axis subs in the Atlantic and several in the Pacific.

Germans said the Axis had sunk the British aircraft carrier Unicorn, but Britons denied any knowledge of it.

Pope's World of Future.

In his annual Christmas message Pope Pius told a warring world that in the future there must be no place for:

1. Any kind of aggression;
2. Oppression of minorities;
3. Designing nations seeking a monopoly on the world's economic wealth;
4. Total war or armament races;
5. Persecution of religious sects or churches.

Quotes

Secretary of Navy Knox points to the ultimate results of Japan's treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor: "In its immediate effects and near-by results it was a successful engagement for the enemy. In its long-time effects and its ultimate results it will surely contribute to our certain victory."

Keith Morgan, chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, predicts wide celebration this year especially of President Roosevelt's birthday: "It will be a mass demonstration not only of unity to win the war but also of support for a movement very close to the president's heart."

Estimate of War Profiteers.

The most thoroughly revolting figure war breeds is the profiteer—the ghoul who sandbags the taxpayer while the taxpayer struggles to keep his economic chin above the rising tax level.

By comparison, the spy and the fifth columnist become almost savory fellows. At least, for their method of betrayal, they must have sufficient courage to risk getting shot or flung in a concentration camp The profiteer hasn't even this slightly redeeming feature.

Disclosure that very shortly "brokers" will be getting $5,000,000 a month out of a certain $12,000,000 monthly order for "perishable" machine tools calls for action just as prompt and effective as any that may be taken to safeguard us against future debacles such as Pearl Harbor provided.

Hints on Etiquette.

Punctuality at meals goes a long way to the home in promoting good humor and harmony. The cook, whether mother or an outsider, deserves the courtesy of prompt appearance of the family at table if at all possible.

One-Minute Test Answers.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB TO SPONSOR CONCERT

Program for Holiday Tea In Hotel Ballroom to Be Presented By Frederick Griesinger, Young Pianist, Assisted By Mrs. Porterfield.

WHEN the Mansfield Music Study club sponsors its holiday guest tea in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Frederick Griesinger, well known young Cleveland pianist, will be guest artist. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. Fred Griesinger, of Cleveland. Dr. Griesinger is a former resident of Mansfield. Mrs. Griesinger is a graduate of Wooster Conservatory and is a former member of its faculty.

Frederick studied with Severin Eisenberger six years, attended Western Reserve university three years, and was winner of the piano scholarship under Austin Conradi, in 1936 at the Julliard Summer School at Chautauqua, N. Y., where he has studied for five years. He also is winner of a three-year piano scholarship at Peabody Institute at Baltimore, Md., under the instruction of Mr. Conradi, with whom he is now studying in his senior year.

A member of the Fortnightly Musical club of Cleveland and the Baltimore Music club, Frederick has been heard over the radio under the auspices of the Federated Music clubs of Ohio and of the Cleveland Art Museum. He has given concerts in surrounding Ohio towns, in Washington, D. C. and Raleigh, N. C.

For his concert here Frederick will play "Ronde in A Minor," by Mozart; "Sonata in A Major," by Schubert; "Nocturne in C Minor," by Chopin; "Jeaux d'Eau," by Ravel; "Scherzo," by Griffes; "Etude," by Liszt; and "Concerto. First Movement," by Brahms. Mrs. Marie Marks Porterfield will play the second piano part of the "Concerto."

Persons desiring to reserve tickets for the program may do so by contacting Miss Tresa Pfeifer at the Mansfield-Leland hotel or Mrs. George Hall.

PLAN INSTALLATION

Plans were made at the meeting of the Sarah E. Lewis Junior club in Memorial hall Friday afternoon to have a joint installation with McLaughlin's Women's Relief corps in January. Miss Beatrice Shade, president, conducted the meeting, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Neff, and adviser. The recent Christmas party was reported to have been a success. Jan. 9 is the date of the next meeting which will be held in Memorial hall at 4 p. m.

If your boss is not satisfactory, just mention it to him and perhaps he will permit you to resign.

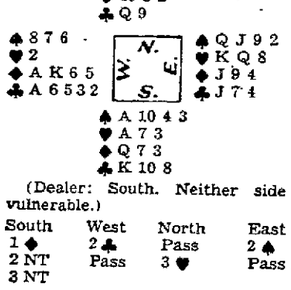
"The Authority on Authorities"

AVOID DUMMY'S SUIT

Except in the rearest of instances, the worst suit of all to lead is the one bid by the player who ultimately becomes the dummy. In both suit and No Trump contracts, a lead of that suit usually starts the declarer upon something he would hope to do all by himself, before the dummy is depleted of entries and soon enough for him to discard losers from his own hand on it.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠
2 NT	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT

A man who would bid that hand as strongly as South did here should have been lambasted all over the map. He would have been

Except in the rarest of instances, West, and the latter's playing habits. He reckoned West would be worth at least a trick to him, and he certainly was.

West is one of those chaps who always likes to lead through the dummy's unsupported major suit, if he himself is weak in it, on the theory that his own partner must therefore be strong in it. So he opened his singleton heart, the 9 forcing the Q and A. The 7 to the 10 knocked out East's K, and then, all too late, East led club J. West took his A and returned the 3 to the Q. The rest of the hearts were run, and South took, all told, five tricks in that suit, two in spades and two in clubs, scoring an impossible game—that is, impossible except for West and his help.

Your Week-End Lesson.

If the player to the right of the dummy gets in the lead on the second or third trick and then leads a small card of an unbid suit in which the dummy contains the ace and one or two small cards, what simple principle of deduction enables the declarer to decide which of the defenders probably holds the king of the suit?

Vows Exchanged In Cleveland Church Dec. 24

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Velda Temple, daughter of Fuller Temple, of Lexington, and Paul C. German, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey German, 167 Hedges street. The wedding took place at 8 p. m., on Dec. 24, in the First Christian church, Euclid avenue, Cleveland. Rev. J. H. Goldner read the marriage service.

Wedding attire of Miss Temple was a street length dress of royal blue chiffon velvet. Her accessories were dubonnet and she had a corsage of gardenias and white sweetpeas. Miss Martha Stone, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dubonnet velvet dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Jack Clements served as best man for Mr. German.

On Christmas day a wedding dinner was served at the home of Mrs. John Stone, aunt of the bride, in Lexington. Mr. and Mrs. German are making their home with the bride's father.

Mrs. German was graduated from Lexington high school and Mr. German is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school. Both are employed by the Tappan Stove company in this city.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, Dec. 28.

SUNDAY'S horoscope shows a most gratifying combination of planetary forces assisting toward attainment of highest ideals and ambitions. Elders, employers, superiors and the public will be found willing and happy to give recognition and solid support toward these ends. Prompt grasp of such opportunity should bring rich rewards. Keep poised and calm in all matters.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a most promising year for rich fulfillment of the highest aims and ambitions, with the public and those in high places ready to give generous and solid support and objectives. Grasp opportunity eagerly but not tumultuously or aggressively. Maintain poise.

For Monday, Dec. 29.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for many difficult and trying experiences in many relations of life. It will take much wisdom, sagacity and self-control to navigate these shoals successfully and keep clear of danger zones. With this accomplished there's surprising opportunity for a sudden coup of enduring profit.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a critical year in which their own keen and clever grasp of opprtunity may lift them to good fortune and unexpected progress, far-reaching and enduring. But it will take wisdom, acumen and sound judgment to make the best of any opportunity having peculiar aspects.

To Wed In February

When open house was held Christmas day at the home of William Miller, Blanche street, announcement was made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Mr. Miller's daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Robert Frank Betz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Betz, 347 Lexington avenue. The couple will exchange nuptial vows on Feb. 8. Out-of-town guests attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oberlin, Orrville, and the Misses Pauline Miller and Marie Hilhoff of Akron. The time and place of the wedding will be announced at a later date.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"I don't imagine Mary will need much help," I told my father, as we started back to the living room of my Lansfield suite. "She is an exceedingly swift worker."

"So much the better," he answered. "You will be able to see Noel more quickly."

He opened the door upon the word, and Mary looked at us with an exaggerated frown.

"If you'd only stayed in there five minutes longer, I would have had these all done," she said. "I wanted to yodel 'Surprise, surprise' and wave them at you."

"May I help you, or will I be in the way?" I asked her.

"I'm all set here," she said, "with everything spread out conveniently before me. Frankly, by the time I'd move—"

"Say no more," I told her smiling. "I'll just sit down here and keep quiet until you've finished."

"There!" she said, holding out the sheets of paper toward me. "They're all done, with all the commas and periods 'n' everything. Better check 'em over, Auntie Madge."

"Will it be necessary?" I asked. "I always have deemed you a most accurate worker."

"Nevertheless," my father said, "I think I should like to have them checked once. And now may I use your telephone?"

Phone Call to Gus.

I caught my breath in suprised dismay. Did he mean to telephone the nine newspapers and give them each this code personal? I could imagine the questioning and conjecture of the telephone operator, something which seemed to me most unwise to arouse.

But even as I gave him a courteoue "of course," my cheeks burned with the realization of how nearly I had come to voicing an embarrassing mistake. I should have known that he never would risk telephone comment.

He picked up the telephone, gave the number of his hideaway in Greenwich Village, and a few seconds later gave crisp directions while Mary and I checked the personals.

"Gus?" he said. "How soon can you get hold of Reed? Good! Tell him to come directly to the Lansfield desk and ask for me. Can he make it in fifteen miutes? Fine! I'll he waiting for him."

In Haste About Noel.

He put the telephone back upon the hook and turned to us.

"Have you finished checking?" he asked.

"Just completed," I answered. "They are all right."

He held out his hand for the bundle and surprisingly vouchsafed an explanation of his telephone.

"Reed will take these around to the newspaper offices," he said. "He is my 'odd jobs' man, and an extremely capable fellow. Now I think I'll go downstairs and take a room for the day. I shan't stay here tonight, but Ronald can take it when he comes, and I'll have Reed sent up there when he comes."

With his hand upon the door, he gave us both a questioning look which brought us to attention as if he had sounded a tocsin.

Cautions Mary.

"I'm not going to suggest any line of argument to be used with Noel," he said. "I am sure that you, Margaret, will be able to bring him to see reason. I would advise you, Mary, to keep out of Noel's way until he has had time to calm down and think things over."

"I'll do that, never fear," Mary said grimly, and I spoke quickly.

"You wish me to get hold of Noel immediately?" I asked.

He might have reminded me caustically that he already had told me this at least twice, but he only answered laconically.

"Yes, immediately," he said. "As soon as I get my room, I'll call Mary and tell her what the number is. Then when you have finished the interview with Noel, telephone me and I'll come up and hear about it. And now, au-revoir for a little while—and good luck!"

Cyane Club Has Progressive Party Friday

A progressive party was enjoyed last evening by members of the Cyane club and one guest, Miss Doris Bush, of Columbus. The group assembled first at the home of Mrs. Theodore R. Patterson on Grasmere avenue and went from there to the residence of Miss Jane Gill on Poplar street. Mrs. George Conklin, Sturges avenue, entertained next, followed by Miss Rosemary Herlihy, who invited the club to her home, 26 Douglas avenue.

Other hostesses for the evening were Miss Isabel Kass, West Third street, Mrs. Peter Creamer, jr., West Fifth street, and concluding portion of the evening was spent at the home of Miss Marie Ellen Campbell in Lexington. At each place the hostess displayed her Christmas gifts and served a light lunch. Date for the next meeting, which will be held at Mrs. Creamer's home, is Jan. 13.

Sorority Dance Enjoyed Friday By 50 Couples

Dancing to the music of Percy Lowery's Columbus orchestra was enjoyed by approxmately 50 couples in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel last evening. Sponsors of the formal affair were members of Delta Sigma Zeta sorority. Two lighted Christmas trees stood at one end of the ballroom and overhead decorations consisted of holly and laurel.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beard led the grand march. Mrs. Beard is adviser for the sorority. General chairman for the dance was Miss Sally Russell. Others who were in charge of arrangements were the following: orchestra, Miss Pauline Auxter; tickets, the Misses Mariam Hoff and Doris McKnight; and decorations, Catherine Lannerd and Marian Little. The next dance will be given in the spring.

CHAPTER XXVII

"You know," Dennison mused, "I was sure that Delaine would go on a grand spending spree when he got that money . . . Most small-town guys would. But, so far, he seems to be a little bewildered or something. He did tell me he bought Miss Delaine a used car and, as far as I know, that's about the extent of his splurge. I believe he is taking a Greek into his shop with some idea of selling out. He'd be a fool if he didn't. He's too near to being the nine tailors to press the town's pants. He could have been something of a genius, I fancy. Ho hum! I guess I'd better follow your example and do a bit of work myself."

* * *

About the time this conversation was taking place, Carol had a telephone call from Erasmus Silverthorne.

"I had a letter from Plaister today," he told her.

"Oh, did you?"

"Everything is all right there. It's Friday week. That should give you time enough I reckon. If you'll drop up some evening, I'll give you the details. Just wanted you to know."

"I will. Thank you so much."

It was thoughtful of the doctor to make it an evening message. Carol mused as she hung up and stood looking down at the telephone. She must find out what the letter from Siloam Springs said and get word to Mrs. Lennon. Her own preparations for the trip would be relatively simple—if only nothing spoiled the plan she had in mind for getting Charlie out of Jericho. Another thought came to her as Andy chanced to descend the stairs.

"Andy," she said in a guarded voice, "I want you to tell me something. If you were going away and needed to take some money . . . how would you?"

"Well, if I were going to be away long enough to make a roll necessary, I'd get some traveler's checks from one of my banks. They're handy and safe. Then you are going to take that trip?" he smiled. "I hope you're not going abroad."

"No," she answered soberly. "Not that far. But when you went away, you wouldn't tell me anything."

"Right, my ducklet. And I'm not asking. Just have a good time."

In the days that followed the pinochle lesson, and despite the breath-taking adventure she was planning, Carol found her thoughts straying very frequently in the direction of Chester Dennison. Wondering what he would do next, what pretext—if any—he would adopt as a means of seeing her. It made her pulse beat a little faster each time and the memory of that instant in his arms left her curiously shaken and a little fearful. He had swept her off her feet.

He was so sure of everything Of his love, of himself—of her.

But she always fell back upon the same defensive line of reasoning. How could love come like that? Even Andy's story didn't reassure her. It seemed to Carol that she would have to know a man for quite a little while. And he ought to know her the same way. How could this man love her so completely as he said he did? And how could it leave her feeling so uncertain—about everything?

* * *

"Well," he remarked, when Carol had ushered him in the parlor, "somebody was telling me that this is beau night in Jericho, so I thought I'd try it out . . . being a solid citizen now." He seemed so boyishly pleased at the idea that Carol found herself unable to resent it. And when he continued with: "You can have the chair with your back to the light tonight; I don't mind," she was so confused that she accepted the suggestion gratefully.

"You are very sure about things, aren't you?" She tried to match his bantering air as she attempted to pull herself together.

"But of course. You're just a little bit glad to see me, I hope."

"I don't know." She spoke in such a flat tone that Chester sobered at once.

"I'm afraid I thought you would be and, of course, I have no reason to."

"You take things so for granted," she insisted. "And I'm not like that. I have to think things out. Sometimes it takes a long while."

"That's all right, Carol," he answered gravely. "If you decide that I am right about things . . . I know somehow that you will never change your mind. I love that little air of calmness that always is a part of your background and your . . . steadfastness." He smiled slightly. "That word I'm afraid sounds like Fitzgerald Darcy, but it's the nearest to what I mean. Would dependable be a better one?"

"I'm not sure at all that I'm dependable. But I am sure that it isn't right for me to let you go on . . . I mean let you feel encouraged that I will ever be the way you want me to be. When I don't know at all and may not be for a long time."

"Are you sure that I can't help you make up your mind?"

"I'm afraid I'm very sure."

"I see. Then all I can do is to keep on caring and hoping. You just might learn to believe in me."

"I do believe that you are sincere. I told you that. It's just me."

"And can we do nothing about you? I'm willing to try anything . . . except to stop loving you That's understood."

"Are you?" Carol seemed not to notice the stipulation. There was a little note of determination in her voice. "Mr. Dennison—"

"You can't make it Chester yet?" he interrupted.

"Not just yet. I am going away from Jericho next week and—"

"Really? Not for long is it?"

"I'm not sure for how long. Oh, not for a very great while," she added as she saw the look of dismay on his face. "But it will give me time to think out some things. It just might make quite a difference. I don't know."

"I see. And you have a suggestion you'd like to make."

"Perhaps."

"I'll make it easy for you in that case. You're thinking it might help if you didn't see me again . . . until afterwards."

"Yes," she answered simply.

"That's fair. I'm merely going to tell you that I will be loving you every hour until I do see you. And we'll let it go at that. God knows, my dear, I'd never worry you against your will . . . much as I've learned to like saying what I've just told you. Will you let me know when you return?"

"Of course."

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

While our boy Johnny Hallabrin dons the Blue today to battle the Grey at Montgomery, Ala., in a gridironical revival of the Civil war, there seems to be a better than outside chance that he's wanted for Ohio football defense back here in his own state.

I haven't been reading John's mail, because even this snooper-dooper couldn't get John's father, Mike Hallabrin, to open the registered letter which came for him yesterday from the Cleveland Rams.

So I can only guess, as you can, that the Rams want him to enlist for duty in their Great Lakes training base come next autumn.

John wasn't caught in the draft, of the National pro football league variety, so until he says "Nay, nay, I will not play," or words to that effect, it may be assumed that he's open to the best sales talk the big league recruiters can muster.

Remind me to ask him about that the next time I see him, which probably will be at The News-Journal football banquet Jan. 5 John's promised to attend if he gets back from his vacation in time.

* * *

Bulletin—The 1941 football season closes today.

Flash—The 1942 football season opens next Thursday.

Crash—That's me, caught in the merry-go-round.

You'd never suspect, would you, that a guy who scored only two points all season, highly important points that tied Michigan, would be the object of big league grid scouts with pen and contract in hand.

But the National league in the past has been partial to football players willing to forget personal glory, and who get in there and block and tackle so that teammates might win the headlines, and their team the victory.

That's what Hallabrin has done this fall at Ohio State, and that's the reason I suspect there's an interesting offer awaiting him in that registered letter from the Rams.

* * *

"Come on down, mates, the fishing's great."

That's the call to Mansfield anglers from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hayes and their children, Norma and Charles, of Mansfield, vacationing at Miami Beach, Fla.

According to the Miami Beach News Service, the Mansfield family last Tuesday boated 83 fish off the beach. The catch included redfish, snapper, grouper, mackerel, speckled salt water trout, sheephead and drum.

* * *

But somehow I am not wishin'
To make that trip just for fishin'.
Nor would I make that little journey
To witness any golfing tourney;
If I ever go, as like as not,
It'll be to find a place that's hot.

Rex Billiards Cop Cage Loop Lead

Rex Billiards edged Daley's cafe last night to take an undisputed hold on first place in the Friendly House Senior White cage league.

Trailing at the half, 19-15, the Rex basketeers went into the lead, 30-27, at the third quarter and finally won the game, 31-30. High scorer was Bajai of Daley's with 12 points.

* * *

Hunts News swamped the last place Boston Grocery quintet 28-19, to go into a tie with Isaly Dairy for third place. Desterhaft of Hunt's led the scoring with nine points in his game.

* * *

In the other game Sferro's Lunch tripped Isaly's 25-20 with McLaughlin sinking 6 field goals for 12 points.

Rockets, Cornell To Tangle

Ohio State Cagers Set For Tilt With Stanford.

(By Associated Press)

Toledo university's red hot rockets tangle tonight with Cornell's basketballers, favored to make it three in a row over the invaders from Ithaca, N. Y., while Ohio State's Big Ten cagers take on Stanford at Berkeley, Calif., during a holiday season barnstorming tour.

Toledo, winner of six straight games this season, defeated Cornell 45-29 in their 1939 encounter and won a 34-33 thriller last year. The Ithicans have won two of their three starts this season.

The Buckeyes' hopes bounced with Stanford's defeat the last time out by Santa Clara, 31-21. The Ohioans are counting heavily on the scoring prowess of Dick Fisher, the fleet footballer, to get them back on the victory trail after their 60-34 loss to Creighton.

The Ohio State game is the first event of a double bill, the second pitting Georgia Tech against University of California. Monday night Ohio State and Georgia Tech will switch opponents.

One week from tonight the teams of the Big Ten will usher in another western conference basketball season, and among those rated a good chance of pushing off Wisconsin, defending title-holder, is Indiana, 1940-41 runnerup.

The Hoosiers have piled up victories over Wabash, Nebraska, U. C. L. A., and Pittsburgh in non-conference activity. Indiana added the Pitt Panthers to its list of victims last night by scoring a 50-41 victory.

* * *

Purdue, winner in three out of four games, will meet Butler's rugged quintet, and Minnesota, victor in four straight, will be host to Nebraska, in other games tonight.

BUY PITCHER

ALBANY—(AP)—Henry (Pete)) Peterman, leading pitcher for the Albany Cardinals of the Georgia-Florida league last season, has been sold to Springfield of the Mid-Atlantic league. Peterman, a righthander, won 24 games in 1941 in pacing Albany to its third pennant in four years.

OHIO NAGS COMBINE TO PRODUCE DAILY DOUBLE

MIAMI, Fla. — (INS) — Old Book and Jack K, both Ohio-owned, combined to produce a daily double payoff of $573.60 at Tropical park yesterday. Old Book, owned by W. P. Byerman of Springfield, paid $25.60 in the first race and Jack K returned $57.70 in the second.

Reiser Takes Slugging Title

Drives In 76 Runs and Hits For 299 Total Bases.

NEW YORK —(INS)— Besides being the National league batting champion for 1941, Pete Reiser, of Brooklyn, also won the slugging title as he helped to blast the Brooklyn Dodgers to the pennant, official averages revealed today.

Previous official figures showed Reiser out in front in hitting with a mark of .343 and leader in several other departments. Latest statistics give him the top slugging performance with a mark of .558. He drove in 76 runs and hit for 299 total bases, with 14 home runs sandwiched in among his drives.

Dolph Camilli, also of the Dodgers, was the runs batted in champion with 120, besides winning the home run title with 34. However, he also was tops in strikeouts with a total of 115. Elbie Fletcher, of Pittsburgh, was tops in getting free passes, 118.

* * *

Burgess Whitehead, then of the New York Giants, struckout the least number of times among regulars, being fooled only 10 times, while Mel Ott, new manager of the Giants, received 100 bases on balls and brought his record to 100 or more during a season to nine years, besides increasing his lifetime total to 1,335, which is the most received by any National league player.

* * *

Getting back to the slugging percentages, Camilli was the one belter close to Reiser. He slugged for an average of .558, just two points shy of the leader. Johnny Mize, then of the St. Louis Cards and now a New York Giant, was third with .535.

* * *

The Brooklyn club topped all others in slugging, with .405, batted in the most runs, 747, and received the most bases on balls, 600. The Cardinals, who finished second in the pennant race, finished second in all those departments.

Sords' Review of the Year

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(Wide World)—In time of war, America's sports fans should feel gratified to know that their country can produce such an event as today's Blue-Gray football game at Montgomery, Ala. . . . It's a real symbol of national unity when a bunch of boys, some of whose grandfathers wore the blue and gray uniforms 80 years ago, can get out on the gridiron and whale the tar out of one another for 60 minutes and come out of it as the best of pals.

BLOCKS OF GRANITE.

If any of you Missouri footballers think the Fordham boys aren't tough too, listen to this. . . . Ed Franco and Nat Pierce, Fordham assistant coaches who were two of the "seven blocks of granite" a few years ago, got themselves locked in their hotel room at Bay St. Louis, Miss. . . . Instead of calling a locksmith, Franco just lowered his head and boom—new hinges.

ODDS—AND SOME ENDS.

Report via Milwaukee (of all places) says Carl Snavely, the Cornell coach, is eyeing a job in the Big Ten. . . . Marian MacPhail, Larry's daughter, is working as a "sports researcher" for Time mag. . . . Jack Lake, Toledo promoter, has signed Henry Cooper to take Frankie Hammer's place against Billy Conn Jan. 12. . . . And Booker Beckwith has signed to fight Joe Joe Maxin of Cleveland in Chicago Jan. 9.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR.

Ed Danforth, Atlanta Journal: "Ace Parker broke his leg twice playing baseball and now football has given him a broken shoulder. However, do not get fresh and tell Ace he has been getting all the breaks."

CLEANING THE CUFF.

Francis E. Stan of the Washington Star suggests that the most important American sport these days is, or should be, rifle shooting. . . . 250,000 marksmen are registered with the National Rifle association and many of them are ready and able to give instructions if they get the go-ahead from the proper authorities. . . . In other words, don't trifle with rifles. . . . Notre Dame and Tulane have been eyeing Doc Blanchard, 17-year-old 200-pound halfback from St. Stanislaus school at Bay St. Louis, Miss., but with Fordham training there, those schools may have a job trying to get the better of silver-tongued Jim Crowley.

PLAY ARMY CAGERS

WOOSTER—(AP)—Coach E. M. (Mose) Hole announced that his Wooster college cage quintet would play a service team from the Fort Hayes army barracks here Feb. 11.

Shelby Loses To Willard

Whippets Fail to Hit Bucket In First Half.

SHELBY — Failing to connect with the bucket, the Shelby Whippets were defeated by Willard, 20 to 11, at Willard last night in the annual cage battle between the twin-coached teams.

It was the third consecutive loss for the Whippets coached by William Query. William's twin brother, Dave, is mentor of the Willard team.

Shelby was unable to sink a field goal during the entire first half.

* * *

Willard took an early 5 to 1 lead in the first quarter, 10 to 2 at the half, and 18 to 9 going into the last period.

* * *

Denham led the Willard five with nine points. Dave Lewis led the visitors with six points.

* * *

Bowl Odds Off, Says SC Chief

Southern Cal Mentor Thinks Duke Over-Rated.

By JACK GUENTHER

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—When you set out to record the last words of a man popularly believed to be broken in health, dulled in mind and crushed in spirit, it comes as something of a shock to find your party fat, saucy and full of indignation at the odds which have established Oregon State a 3-1 underdog in the exiled Rose Bowl football game.

That's exactly how I found Justin McCarthy Barry when I arrived at his hotel today bearing a gift of lilies and the address of my favorite mortician. Considering what the man had been through these last four months, I wasn't merely surprised to find Mr. Barry in excellent health; I was stunned.

You see, Justin McCarthy Barry is just an alias for the Sam Barry who debuted this season as coach of the Southern California football team.

* * *

"Pay no heed to the wishful thinking you've heard," he boomed, slapping my back with an arm that certainly wasn't wasting away. "Every time I lost a game I was reported heading for suicide bridge or visiting a gunsmith. But, shucks, we didn't have a bad team.

"We lost boys to the army, through injuries and through influenza. The only time they were all together they won, and beat Oregon State, the conference champ."

Since Barry was one of the two coaches who did defeat the western Rose Bowl team, I asked him to furnish a thumb-nail sketch of this squad so lightly dismissed as an opponent for high-scoring Duke.

"I can't pick OSC to win the game because I haven't seen Duke," he said, "but Lou Stiner has two big, rugged lines. When I say big and rugged, I mean just that. We didn't beat them until the last 10 seconds and by that time they'd burned up half of my players, including both fullbacks. Back of those lines work two pretty good offensive combinations, and don't think that they can't score. They can and have."

Barry particularly praised Quarterback George Peters and Guard Bill Halverson, the latter a 230-pounder who opens holes faster than a trip-hammer punch.

* * *

Barry, here with the Southern California basketball team—he coaches that, too—says he will have a good team next year because he won't lose many of his boys, who are unusually young.

North-South Gridders Set

Blue and Grey Grid Kickoff Set For This Afternoon.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—(AP)—Big name stars have shared most of the pre-game publicity, but if previous scripts are any guide, the spot-light in today's fourth annual North-South all-star game may settle on little-knowns from little colleges.

With a capacity crowd of 15,500 jamming Crampton Bowl for the 1:30 p. m. (CST) kickoff, a lot was expected of the South's H-boys—Junie Hovious and Merle Hapes of Mississippi—and of Bosh Pritchard of V. M. I., and Jack Crain of Texas.

The Northern team had John Hallabrin of Ohio State, Tuffy Chambers of Northwestern, and Andy Tomasic of Temple as standouts.

But form called for fter-game headlines to go to some player with less of the pre-game expectations centered on him.

Dark horse candidates today were End H. C. Burrus of Hardin-Simmons for the Greys, and Jackie Hunt of Marshall and Jim Carrier of Wesleyan (Conn.) College for the Blues.

Betting odds were 2-1 in favor of the Southerners. The Blues have won two of the previous contests, the Greys one.

Fellowship Gains Game

Janitors Score Only Moose Loop Shutout

The Moose league-leading Fellowship quintet gained a full game on the second-place Pilgrims at Colony alleys last night by taking a 2-1 win from the Prelates. Only shutout in the kegling loop was by the Janitors over the Treasurers.

* * *

Brig Young led the league with a 630 total but his 233 game took only third place, two pins behind R. Hazlett's 235. Johnny Leppo was in the middle with 234.

NEW HOCKEY TEAM PLAYS CLEVELAND BARONS

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The Washington Lions, newest team in the American hockey league, make their first appearance at the Arena tonight as the Cleveland Barons endeavor to lengthen their unbeaten streak on home ice to 11 straight.

The Barons, with 30 points, are still one point behind Indianapolis and Hershey, who are tied for first in the western division.

PROS PRACTICE

NEW YORK—(AP)—With less than half his squad on hand, Coach Steve Owen of the New York Giants already has started practice for his all-star pro team which will play the champion Chicago Bears here Jan. 4. Steve had 16 players out for an hour and a half workout yesterday. He started them on passing plays, planning to rely upon an air attack.

OPEN SKI CENTER

ITHACA, N. Y.—(AP)—Recognizing the increasing popularity of snow sports, Cornell university will open a ski center this winter. The university has acquired 30 acres of hill property eight miles from the campus and has appropriated funds to clear the slopes and install a ski tow, ski jump and shelter house.

DRINKS 11 HALF PINTS

BILOXI, Miss — (AP) — Ernie Blandin, 250-pound Tulane tackle, has set a milk consuming record among the Eastern All-stars in practice here. In a luncheon contest with John Rokisky, tall Duquesne end, Blandin put down 11 half-pints. His opponent stopped at six.

Perry In Hospital After Spill

Arm Nerve Painfully Hurt While Playing Bobby Riggs.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The opening performance by Alexis Thompson's new tennis troupe at Madison Square Garden last night apparently proved two things: (1) that the rookies, Bobby Riggs and Frank Kovacs, can hold their own in fast pro company, and (2) that Kovacs is, as amateur officials have contended, a bad influence on tennis.

Fred Perry, missing from the troupe as it headed for its showing at Trenton, N. J., tonight, undoubtedly can testify to the latter.

* * *

A headliner for years, Perry didn't intend to let Kovacs steal the spotlight with his heralded clown act. Fred put on a good show, too, but when he tried to revive his old stunt of going after an out-of-reach ball, falling and somersaulting to his feet, he was carted off to the hospital with a painfully injured arm.

For a while it was feared Perry might be seriously hurt, but examination showed nothing but a severe contusion of the radial nerve of his right forearm. Fred is expected to resume the tour at Washington Monday.

Up to the time of the spill, Perry and Riggs had maneuvered through almost three sets of clever but unexciting tennis on virtually even terms. When the Briton had to default, Riggs was leading 6-3, 4-6, 5-4 and had a 30-15 count on his own service.

FDR, CHURCHILL DRAFT WAR PLAN

Complete Outline and Call In Pan-American Envoys For Talks Today.

do that abundantly, the United Press was told.

The big problem is shipping. But that is coming along, and all inquiries are met with replies which fit pretty well into Churchill's pattern of an anti-Axis offensive in about 12 months. The plan not only is to take the offensive in 1943 but to take it in "every part" of the globe.

The broad outlines of policy such as would have to be agreed upon by the two chiefs of state, themselves, apparently are in substantially final form.

It was disclosed last night that Churchill will address a joint session of the Cnadian parliament next Tuesday.

The technical discussions of the experts are expected to continue for weeks or months, or, perhaps, until victory is won.

The triumphant phase of the Churchill visit came yesterday when he addressed an informal joint session of congress and, finally, walked slowly from the midst of a nation, two fingers of his right hand held high with the confidentsign: V (for Victory).

He lunched with a group of senators after that and in the early afternoon spoke to Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet for two or three minutes. His counsel to the legislators and people of the United States was to expect disappointments, to harden themselves against impatience, to set emselves now for a long, hard war.

He said we the Allies—would be on the offsive in 1943. For the Axis he has only the warning that opposed to our best efforts, it must expect defeat.

The prime minister talked of a post-war panership between London and Whington. His congressional audace was enthusiastic and so was the comment of legislators after they had seen and heard him.

Implicit in most every word Churchill has spoken here has been the urgency of the problem of supply. He plained that British forces in the Pacific were not well enough eqpped to meet the Japanese because the British force in Libya had first call on weapons — and there was not enough for all.

The democracies cannot take the offensive now, he explained, because all shipping is needed to supply the men who already are fighting.

He told the senators that he expected Germany to continue to threaten the invasion of England. He said he threat might be turned in fact and indicated substantially when he thought Adolf Hitler might take the gamble, if he takes it at all.

Offsetting the invasion threat, he explained that Great Britain definitely has air superiority over the islands.

Prime Minister To Pay Visit To Canada

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — British Prime Minister Winston Churchill today was preparing to end his stay in the United States for a two-day visit to Canada.

Canadian Prime Minister McKenzie King, who arrived here yesterday for conferences with President Roosevelt, Churchill and other Allied leaders, disclosed that the British Prime Minister would address a joint session of the Canadian parliament Tuesday and attend a meeting of Canada's war cabinet.

Exact time of the departure of Britain's wartime leader for Ottawa was not disclosed.

FREIGHTER SUNK

NEW YORK —(INS)— A British radio broadcast heard by CBS said today that a "Russian freighter is reported to have been sunk by Japanese aircraft south of the Philippines off the Gulf of Davao."

YOU SEE, MY RADIO IS OUT— THEY SMASHED IT! BUT I THINK I RECOGNIZE THIS COUNTRY. I'M HEADING FOR THE NEAREST PORT
BUT BY THAT TIME IT MAY BE TOO LATE TO CATCH THEM!
THOSE MEN ARE WANTED BY THE F.B.I.! IF WE COULD ONLY NOTIFY THE F.B.I. NOW, ALL THE FACILITIES OF THAT ORGANIZATION WOULD BE USED AT ONCE TO CATCH THE MEN!
AS MUCH AS I WOULD LIKE TO DO THAT, I'M AFRAID THERE IS NO WAY, WAIT! I'VE AN IDEA! IT MIGHT WORK!

EXOTIC FLOWERS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(U.P.)—Dr. J. R. Lieb of Springfield has proved that exotic flowers can grow in the middle of the corn belt.

During the past 25 years, Lieb has learned to cultivate Japanese and Chinese lotuses, both natural double flowers, which he believes are the only bloom of the species in the nation outside of California.

In his garden he also has the single lotus of this country, the yellow fringe orchis of the North Carolina mountains, and tropical lilies.

They who misjudge are apt to be misjudged.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—As it Must to All Men. By Harold Gray

FAFNER, THE HIGH SEER, PLOTTING TO GAIN A SACRIFICE FOR THE ALTAR OF RANI, LORD OF DEATH, CRAFTILY WEAVES A WEB IN WHICH HE HOPES TO SNARE BRICK
YOU ARE THE GUARD WHO SAW THE MAN HIDDEN IN THE AIRSHIP?
'TWASN'T A MAN I SAW, YOUR LORDSHIP, 'TWAS A GHOST!
VERY WELL--A GHOST, THEN! NOW! YOU SAW HIS FACE AND WASN'T IT THE FACE OF THE STRANGER, BRADFORD?
12-27
BUT--BUT--I DIDN'T SEE HIS FACE--!
SO! THE OLD ONES WILL BE HAPPY TO KNOW A BLIND MAN GUARDS THE SACRED SHIP!
ER-ULP!--MAYBE I DID--YES, I DID SEE HIS FACE! AND HE--HE DID LOOK LIKE--THIS MAN YOUR LORDSHIP NAMED!
I KNEW YOU WOULD RECALL THE FACE! NOW RETURN TO YOUR POST, MOST EXCELLENT GUARD!

STOCK LEADERS ENTRENCHED ON RECOVERY LINE

Many Dig In For Modest Gains While Others Hold Up For Heavy Tax Selling.

NEW YORK — Many leading stocks dug in for modest recoveries in today's early market transactions but others still were restrained by heavy tax selling.

Boardrooms noted the compilation of the American Iron and Steel Institute which disclosed efforts of steel this year were substantially under those of 1940. For 11 months shipments abroad were placed at 5,165,941 tons compared with 7,693,858 in the same period last year.

Attention also was given the figures of the Federal Reserve board showing Christmas shopping last week boosted money in circulation $201,000,000.

SOVIETS TALLY GERMAN LOSSES

Say 42 Transports, 2 Destroyers Sunk In Six Months.

NEW YORK —(INS)— Destruction of 42 German transports, two destroyers, four submarines and five auxiliary vessels by the Soviet northern fleet during the first six months of the Russo-German war was reported today by the fleet commander, CBS heard in a broadcast from BBC.

The fleet operated in the Barents sea off the northern coasts of Russia and Norway. Much American lease-lend aid to Russia was delivered through that sea.

Japs Losing Ships At One-A-Day Rate

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Japan is losing troop and supply ships at the rate of more than one a day, fast enough to reduce her great merchant marine to insignificance in two years if losses go unchecked in a Pacific naval war of attrition.

United States and Dutch army, navy and air reports for the first three weeks of the war list 26 Japanese merchant vessels as sunk or seriously damaged by submarines or air attacks in Philippine, Borneo and Malayan water despite heavy naval and air escort.

Although Japan has 23 shipyards with 69 berths for construction of large craft, her steel resources are limited and building facilities are believed to be far below what would be necessary to make up for even half of such a rate of loss.

At the start of the war Japan's merchant fleet was third largest in the world, trailing those of Britain and the United States. In sea-going vessels of 2,000 tons or more it consisted of 898 ships of 4,754,699 gross tons, of these, 717 were freighters, 132 were combination passenger-cargo ships, 49 were tankers and two were primarily refrigerated cargo vessels.

Britain had 2,644 ships of 16,806,379 tons and the United States had 1,150 ships of 7,078,909 tons.

More important that the actual tonnage figures, however, was the American and British shipbuilding capacity. During the World war American yards reached a rate of construction equivalent to 6,000,000 tons a year and the British building came to about half that rate. Present programs call for a similar effort, with completion in America of 1,200 new ships of about 13,200,000 gross tons by 1943.

Japan's biggest year in merchant ship building since the World war was 1937, when she turned out 180 vessels of 100 tons or more, a total gross tonnage of 451,121.

THEATERS

Fun Fest.

Fibber McGee turns flying field promoter in "Look Who's Laughing," the current Ohio theater fun fest starring Fibber and Molly, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, and an array of other notable film personalities: He has competition that he can't cope with however until Bergen's plane is forced down on the spot and the noted ventriloquist takes a hand in combatting sinister forces. Lucille Ball appears as Bergen's secretary and Harold Peary, Neil Hamilton and Dorothy Lovett are others in the cast. Bergen introduces a new doll, in addition to Charlie, this one called "Ophelia."

Rookie Comedy.

Jimmy Durante and Phil Silvers pool their comedy talents in "You're In The Army Now," the story of two rookies just trying to get along in camp, now showing at the Madison. The two find themselves in the cavalry after a recruiting officer proves to be a better salesman for the army than they do for a vacuum cleaner company. They mean well but they just can't co-ordinate until pressure is brought to bear. Jane Wyman, Regis Toomey and Matty Malneck and his orchestra are also featured. "Steel Against the Sky" the second attraction, teams Lloyd Nolan and Alexis Smith.

Romantic Comedy.

The widely divergent methods of snaring a man are presented by two attractive young women out to capture Melvyn Douglas in "Our Wife," opening at the Park today. Ellen Drew plays the clinging vine and Ruth Hussey the type who believes that brains will be superior in the end. Douglas appears as a band leader down on his luck until a young woman scientist comes along and turns the tide. John Hubbard and Charles Coburn are in the cast. Tom Harmon, the Michigan grid star, makes his bow in "Harmon of Michigan," the second picture, based on the career of an All-American after graduation.

Red Rout Nazis In Volkov Sector

MOSCOW —(U.P.)— Russian forces have routed German units in the Volkhov sector of the Leningrad front and killed 6,000 enemy soldiers in the process, a special communique said today.

The rout began Dec. 18 and was completed Christmas day, the communique said. Thirty-two villages and towns were recaptured and the usual booty" taken.

Successes against the shivering Germans were reported on other fronts.

This morning's communique said Soviet troops fought the enemy on all fronts, and that units on a unspecified sector in one day took back 17 localities and seized large quantities of arms and material.

Communiques for the last two days have been reticent about developments around Mozhaisk and Maloyaroslavets, where the Germans once had pushed spearheads that imperiled the capital.

Gen. Ivan Boldin's push toward Kaluga on the left flank and Gen. Rokossovsky's movement westward from Volokolamsk appear, however, to be a synchronized campaign to wipe out the last German salient.

DEDICATE NEW 'Y' BUILDING AT BUCYRUS

Services to Be Held Sunday; Structure to Provide New Facilities.

BUCYRUS — Rev. David N. Roller, Mansfield pastor and former pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church in Bucyrus, will share the speaking platform with Charles F. Kennedy and R. L. Dickinson, president and secretary respectively of the Ohio Y. M. C. A. area at the dedicatory services for the new Y. M C. A. here Sunday afternoon.

The ceremony is scheduled for 3 p. m. Judge C. U. Ahl will preside. John Q. Shunk, who made possible the rebuilding of the old structure, gutted by fire last February, will have a part in the service. E. B. Hagaman, secretary of the "Y" will give a litany of consecration and Rev. C. D. Loehr of First Presbyterian church and Rev. A. J. E. Manton of First Methodist church will speak. Bucyrus male chorus will provide special music.

The newly remodeled building, a brick structure, will offer one of the most modern Y. M. C. A. facilities for its size in the state.

A new feature to be offered at the "Y" will be work among boys for which John Madson of Springfield, has been appointed as aid to E. B. Hagaman. Madson will supervise activities of boys through high school age.

Facilities provided in the new building will include a girl scout room and boy scout headquarters, a newly redecorated gym and swimming pool, a men's club room and men's and women's lounges. New furnishings have also been provided in the dormitory.

Shunk, Bucyrus manufacturer, provided $22,000 making the rebuilding possible.
